

Options for A-Frame or Bell-Back Tents

Rope and Stakes for A-Frame & Bell-backs:

We offer authentic natural fiber and cotton rope, not synthetic materials. Specify which tent or lean-to you wish to equip, and we can provide exactly the right lengths. Or, order natural fiber rope by the foot, and specify length. Order a 50 foot hank of cotton rope.

#Rope-3/8-H	natural fiber rope, 3/8" diameter	per foot	$.18
#Rope-1/4-C	genuine cotton rope, 50 foot hank	per 50 ft	$5.00
Order the proper number of stakes for your A-Frame or Bell-Back tent. Select wood or iron.

#Stake-Iron	tent stakes, 14" hand forged, 2-1/2" hook, 2 lb.	each	$2.25

Awnings for A-Frame & Bell-back tents:

Awnings extend about 8 feet, and are as wide as the roof slope. Brass grommets in four corners, with loops for ties or stakes on two sides. An extended or additional ridge pole and other poles will be needed. When up, the awning can form a fly on either or both sides of the door. Or stake it down during rain to provide a dry entrance. These awnings fit both A-frame and Bell-back tents. Awnings for the 9 x 9' or 10 x 10' tent require at least one 8' pole and one 7' pole. For a 12 x 12' tent add two 8' poles. Use shorter poles at the corners.

British Infantryman's 1750 - 1780 era Bell-back Tent

Historically correct, this tent has a three panel bell-back design that adds floor space without increasing pole size or setup time. This military style A-frame tent has a slightly extended front, too. The floor size is 8' 6" deep, 6' 0" wide, and 6' 2" high.

Make poles for your British Infantryman's tent from 2 x 2" clear lumber. Make two poles 6' 2" and one pole 7' 2" long. Order 15 stakes.
